This store has a lot of animations inspired by apple.com. It is built for a water purifier company based in Dubai. They already have a store which is wisewell.com which is also built by me. But the client wanted to give it a new and fresh look and that's what I did.

Kinkxx.com is an online store meticulously crafted by its owner to gain firsthand experience in e-commerce operations. This is my own dropship store. I created to gain the first hand experience of creating and managing a store. From website design to product selection, customer service, marketing, and order fulfillment, every facet of Kinkxx.com reflects the owner's commitment to learning and growth in the realm of e-commerce. With a curated selection of products catering to various interests, this store serves as a valuable platform for both experimentation and customer engagement.
